PUBLIC AUCTION.

To be sold, at public auction, at Northumberland court house, in the county of Northumberland, and state of Virginia, on TUESDAY, the fifth day of September next, at eleven o'clock, in the forenoon,
Five contiguous Plantations,
Amounting together to about 2700 Acres,
SITUATE on the river Potomac, and within about three miles of the court-house. These estates formerly belonged to Presley Thornton, Esq. and are the same on which he lived. They have never been seen by either of the subscribers; but it is understood, that about 1700 acres of them are as valuable low grounds as any on the river, and a considerable part thereof heavily timbered. The uplands consist of about 1000 acres, and the whole is well calculated for the production of corn, wheat, tobacco, timothy, and small grain of all kinds, in great abundance. The waters are said to abound with excellent fish, oysters, and wild fowl. The water carriage is easy and convenient to Norfolk, Baltimore, Alexandria, and the city of Washington; and as these estates possess several good mill seats, with an abundance of water, and a plentiful supply of timber, they must be very valuable.

The premises will be shewn to persons inclining to purchase, by Col. James Moore, who lives on them, or by Samuel Blackwell, Esq. who lives near to them; and the terms of payment may be known a sufficient time before the sale, by applying to either of them, or to the subscriber in the city of Philadelphia.

From the Charleston Courier.

HAFIZ, the Persian poet, bears an immortal fame among the Eastern Nations—perhaps, there is no poet, of ancient or modern ttmes, who excels him in light, amatory, and bacchanalian pieces. He is styled the "Persian Anacreon," but his powers appear to be of a superior cast to those of the Teian Bard—allowing for the difference between Oriental and Grecian imagery, the following Bacchanalian Ode of HAFIZ is conceived in the true and happiest manner of Anacreon. It is not only in compositions of this sort, however, that the Persian is eminent: his talents were more various than those of Anacreon, and he is frequently delightful in the Horatian manner.

HITHER, boy, a goblet bring,
Be it of wine's ruby spring!
Bring me one, and bring me two;
Nought but purest wine will do.

It is wine, boy, that can save
Even lovers from the grave:
Old and young alike will say,
'Tis the balm that makes us gay.

Wine's the sun; the moon, sweet soul!
We will call the waning bowl;
Bring the sun, and bring him soon,
To the bosom of the moon!

Dash us with this liquid fire,
It will thoughts divine inspire;
And, by nature taught to glow,
Let it like the waters flow!

If the rose should fade, do you
Bid it cheerfully adieu;
Like rose-water to each guest,
Bring thy wine and make us blest.

If the nightingale's rich throat
Cease the music of its note;
It is fit, boy, thou should'st bring
Cups that will with music sing.

Be not sad, whatever change
O'er the busy world may range;
Harp and lute together bring,
Sweetly mingling string with string.

My bright Maid, unles it be
In some dream, I cannot see;
Bring the draught, that will disclose
Whence it was sleep first arose.

Should it chance o'er power my mind,
Where's the remedy I find?
'Tis in wine: then, boy, supply
Wine, 'till all my senses die.

Unto HAFIZ, boy, do you
Instant bring a cup or two;
Bring them; for the wine shall flow
Whether it be law, or no.

The following very interesting memoir on the subject of Merino Sheep has been sent us by Mr. CUSTIS, of Arlington, who has lately received, from a gentleman of high distinction, the work of a Mr. Bakewell on Wool, and its method of improvement to suit the various purposes of manufacture, from which publication we shall present our readers with some valuable extracts.

Some circumstances relative to Merino Sheep, chiefly collected from the Spanish Shepherds, who attended those of the Flock of Paular, lately presented to the king of G. Britain by the government of Spain; with particulars respecting that great national acquisition; and also respecting the Sheep of the Flock of Negrete, imported from Spain by his majesty, in the year 1791.

A considerable part of Estramadura, Leon, and the neighboring provinces of Spain, is appropriated to the maintenance of the Merino flocks, called by the Spaniards Trasbumantes, as are also broad green roads, leading from one province to the other, and extensive resting places, where the sheep are baited on the road. So careful is the police of the country to preserve them, during their journies from all hazard of disturbance or interruption, that no person, not even a foot passenger, is suffered to travel upon these roads while the sheep are in motion, unless he belongs to the flocks.

The country on which the sheep are depastured, both in the southern and the northern parts, is set out into divisions, separated from each other by land marks only, without any kind of fences; each of these is called a Dehesa, and is of a size capable of maintaining a flock of about a thousand sheep, a greater number, of course, in the south country, where the lambs are reared, and fewer in the north country, where the sheep arrive after the flock has been culled.

Every proprietor must possess as many of these in each province, as will maintain his flock. In the temperate season of winter and spring, the flocks remain in Estremadura, and their the ewes bring forth there lambs in December. As soon as the increasing heats of April and May have scorched up the grass, and rendered the pasturage scanty, they commence their march towards the mountains of Leon, and after having been shorn on the road, at vast establishments called Esquileos, erected for that purpose, pass their summer in the elevated country, which supplies them with abundance of rich grass; and they do not leave the mountains till the frosts of September begin to damage the herbage.

A flock in the aggregate is called a Cavana; this is divided into as many subdivisions as there are thousands of sheep belonging to it; each sheep, besides being sear-marked in the face with a hot iron when young, is branded after every shearing, with a broad pitch brand, generally of the first letter of the name of the proprietor, and each subdivision is distinguished by the rest, by the part of the sheep's body on which this mark is placed.

By the laws of the Mesta, each Cavana must be governed by an officer called Mayoral; for each subdivision of a thousand sheep, five shepherds and four dogs are appointed. Some of there inferior shepherds obtain the office of Rabadan, the duty of which is to give a general superintendance under the control of the Mayoral, a so to prescribe and administer medicines to sick sheep. At the time of travelling, and when the ewes are yeaning, one or two extra shepherds are allowed for each thousand sheep.

The number of Merino sheep in Spain, is estimated by Burgoyne at 6,000,000; these of course must be attended by 30,000 shepherds, and 24,000 dogs at ordinary times, and they find occasional employment for 5 or 10,000 additional persons in the seasons of lambing and travelling.

In their journey each subdivision is attended by its own shepherds & dogs, & kept seperate as far as may be from all others. The duty of the dogs is to chase the wolves, who are always upon the watch when the sheep are on the road, and are more wily than our foxes; they are taught also, when a sick sheep lags behind unobserved by the shepherds, to stay with and defend it, till some one returns back in search of it. There are besides in each subdivision about six tame wethers, called Mansos; these wear bells, and are obedient to the voices of the shepherds, who frequently give them small pieces of bread: some of the shepherds lead, the Mansos are always near them, and this disposes the flock to follow.

Extract of a letter from France, dated June 10.

"I think however, that Bonaparte will take time to consider, and will not say a word until your standing with Great Britain is fully understood; of course he will receive any thing that may come in the mean ttme, but still under sequestration to increase the value of the pledge for your good conduct. A schooner in St. Sebastians, and a ship in Holland, arrived lately and were immediately seized; three or four other Americans in Tonningen are I believe in the same predicament. At all events, you need not expect any thing very interesting from this quarter for a couple of months to come. We are too busy in Germany to think of you. I should not like to see our respective governments asunder, for it is very probable we can within twelve months shut you and the English effectually out of every port in the continent, those of Turkey excepted. Georgia cotton 500 fs. Louisiana 650 fs.—The sales of American cotton will however be much injured, by that now growing in the kingdom of Naples: last year 20,000 bales were raised there, judged superior to the Louisiana, and this year they talk of raising 200,000 bales."

Charante, May 22,

DEAR SIR,

YOUR agreeable favor of the 22d of March last arrived safe to hand yesterday. I am sorry to inform you, that captain Sisson left this long ago, his ship being seized by the custom-house gentlemen of this place upon a simple denunciation, that his ship had come from England; it was the cook (a black fellow) of the ship Holland Trader, captain St. Clair who denounced her; Mr. Frederick Roorback, after a very long and tedious sickness, departed this world (I hope for a better) the 14th Nov. last. The ship is not yet condemned, but I am afraid she will share the same fate, as many others arrived here at the same time, viz.

from that place, contains the following information:—"London dates to the 16th June have reached this place—they advise, that Bonaparte's army had evacuated the island of Inder Lobau, and returned again to the Vienna side of the Danube with severe loss: that the Austrian official account of the battle of the twenty-first and twenty-second May, as published at Stockholm, rates the loss of the French at 30,000—that the archduke Charles had addressed a proclamation to the army, in which he informs his troops that he shall divide their forces and by constantly harrassing the enemy, prevent him, at any time, from attacking more than a small division; this is tho't to be a wise and judicious plan, and more calculated to harrass his numerous adversaries, than trusting the whole to the chance of any one important action.

"There are various reports of battles subsequent to the 23d May. Prussia is said to be coming forward with an army of 40 or 50,000 men; the duke of Brunswick is also said to have raised his standard in Saxony, and to be daily strengthing his party.—Colonel Schill is not dead, as was reported; but on the contrary has augmented his forces very considerably."

Extract of a letter received by the ship Braamin, capt Singleton, arrived at Philadelphia in 40 days from Cadiz.

"The affairs of Spain go on gloriously.—the French have been beaten in every attack by the patriots for several months past. In fact, of the grand army led into Spain by Bonaparte, there are very few left, and these are trying to retreat in every possible way. But few of these will ever get out of this country—they are all scattered into different parts, hotly pursued by the Spaniards and dying of hunger heat and fatigue."

From the Philadelphir Register.

Extract of a letter from an intelligent gentleman in Cadiz, to his friend in this city, dated May 31, 1809.

"Since writing the above, we have official accounts of the dertruction of Soult's army, who, however, escaped himself with part of his army from the British, and fell in with Romana, to whom we are assured he surrendered. Wellesley is marching on with 20,000 Englishmen, against Victor, who we are in hopes will be taken between him and Cuesta, in which case he may expect a complete defeat.

"A more glorious piece of news, however, is contained in a paper which I enlose you, being a proclamation of the government, informing the public of their intention to call a Cortes. This is what was wanting, and all good men have been wishing for. It is understood that Spanish America will be admitted to a free representation in proportion to her populatiou."

LATEST NEWS.

Extract of a letter from Halifax, July 22.

"The Inflexible 64, has just arrived from England. She sailed from Spithead the 18th ult. The latest London papers, received by her, that I have as yet seen, are to the 14th.

Three Prussian Gentlemen had arrived with despatches for the British government, as also a Russian messenger.

"William, duke of Brunswick, has issued a proclamation from his head-quarters at Zittan, of the date of the 21st May, declaring in favor of Austria, and calling for the assistance of all classes of his subjects.

"In the House of Commons lord H. Petty moved for the further papers respecting American affairs. Mr. Canning replied that those laid before the house, viz.—His letter of instructions, and the late correspondence between Mr. Erskine and Mr. Smith, were all that at the present moment could, with propriety, be laid before the house.

"After some debate, lord Henry Petty withdrew his motion.

"You will, no doubt, think that some important event is commenced with the embassy of the Prussian and Russian messengers to England—perhaps you may anticipate a complete spirit of re-action on the continent—and BONAPARTE be yet checked in his insatiable ambition."

NEW-YORK, August 3.

Latest from Portugal.

The brig Orange, capt. Hathaway, arrived at this port yesterday from Oporto, which place he left on the 28th of June. Capt. H. informs us that the British and Portuguese armies were at Branco on the 24th June, in pursuit of the French army under gen. Victor. M. Soults army was said to be in Spain except 600 of his rear guard and 80 pieces of cannon which had been taken by the British army. On the 26th and 27th of June, 1800 prisoners of war were embarked at Oporto for England. The French were entirely driven out of England.

August 4.

Latest from England,

Yesterday arrived at this port, the brig Statira, capt. Geer, in 40 days from London, which place she left on the 21st of June. From capt. G. and his passengers the editor of the Mercantile Advertiser has received a regular file of London papers to the 20th of June, inclusive, and Lloyd's List to the 16th.

By the Statira, we learn that the British miuister (Mr. Jackson) had not sailed for America, but that he was about sailing in a sloop of war. The Phœnix frigate was ordered for some other service.

The Statira is the bearer of dispatches from the American minister in London, to the government of the U. S.

LONDON, June 19.

This morning arrived a mail from Heligoland, by which we have received the following:—

"Banks of the Elbe, June 2.

"The Austrian head quarters are, according to private accounts received this morning, at Lintz.

"The emperor Francis, previous to the battle of Aspern, received proposals from Napoleon, to conclude a truce on certain conditions, which overture he immediately forwarded to the Archduke Charles, who returned it with the following note:

"Brother take my marshals staff from me, and let me rather know the Austrian name no more, nor yours, but let me rather retire with my brothers to Hungary."

Two very important reports have got into circulation. It was confidently stated on Saturday, that the king of Prussia has declared war against France; and it was at the same time asserted, that another battle had been fought on the left bank of the Danube, in which Bonaparte had proved successful. The former of these reports obtained considerable credit in the city, and letters containing what was stated to be the substance of his Prussian majesty's declaration of war, were shewn. It was observed, however, that differences so material appeared in the descriptions of the pretended Prussian manifestos, that no reliance could be placed on the accuracy of any of them. The arrival of the young prince of Orange in this country, has tended we believe to spread an opinion that the king of Prussia has resolved to take part in the war against France, and it is said that he has been determined to take this course in consequence of Bonaparte having expressed himself dissatisfied with all the explanations that have been offered by the cabinet of Konings-berg, respecting the conduct of Schill.—The rumor, however, must be accompanied by better evidence than any that has yet been adduced in its support, before the doubts which it is calculated to excite can be removed. If the king of Prussia has determined to go to war, it is probably in consequence of a conviction that Bonaparte has resolved to strip him of the small remains of power he has still left. It must be a last effort of despair. With regard to the latter report, it is certainly not improbable that a battle has taken place on the Danube; but the authority for that act is not better than that for the Prussian declaration of war.—The rumor is stated from letters in Holland, and is said to be corroborated by a gentleman who arrived on Friday at Harwich, in a neutral vessel from the continent.

Col. Washington Morton, a gentleman of very considerable influence in America, arrived at Portsmouth, from London last week, in six hours, and sailed with dispatches of great importance from Mr. Pinkney, the American minister to gen. Armstrong at Paris.

We understand that government is making vigorous preparations to equip another armament. Reinforcements are daily proceeding to Portugal both from this country and Ireland; and it is said especially that cavalry is to be forwarded, the want of which has been so loudly complained of in every part of the peninsula. An opinion is likewise entertained, that government purposes to send succors in arms, and possibly in men too, to the insurgents in Germany.

June 20.

A Telegraphic dispatch yesterday afternoon was received at the admiralty from Plymouth, stating that the French had been forced out of St. Andero. This was naturally to be expected from previous accounts of the condition of the enemy in the north of Spain, and we trust soon to hear hat they have been entirely driven.

VERY LATE FROM FRANCE.

Yesterday afternoon arrived at this port, the dispatch ship Mentor, captain Ward, in the remarkably short passage of 24 days from L'Orient, which place she left on the 9th of July.

Mr. Maliby Gelston, is the bearer of despatches for government, and proceeds to Washington this morning.

Captain Ward has obligingly favored the editor of the Mercantile Advertiser with a file of Paris papers to the 4th of July. The dates from the French army in Germany are to the 24th of June, and comprize the 22d bulletin, at which time the emperor Napoleon had his head quarters at Vienna.—The town of Raab capitulated on the 23d June to general Lauriston, and the terms of the capitulation occupy nearly the whole of the last bulletin.

We learn verbally, that no battle had taken place between the French and Austrian grand armies, since the 21st and 22d May, but that both the emperor of France and the archduke Charles were reinforcing and concentrating their armies; and that a great battle was shortly expected to take place.

We further learn that the emperor of Russia had sent three large armies to assist the emperor Napoleon, (one of which was commanded by the prince Suwarroff, probably a relation of the late general Suwarrow of infamous memory) and that they were marching through Gallacia on their way to the French army, Prussia had not declared against France.

Mr. Washington Morton had arrived in Paris with despatches from our minister at the court of St. Jame's for general Armstrong.

We are further informed, that two or three American vessels had recently arrived at Amsterdam; but we are ignorant whether any change has taken place in the decrees of France favorable to the interests of the U. S.

Captain Ward has requested us to state, that from the time of his arrival in L'Orient, until his departure for New-York, he has received the most polite and friendly treatment and attention, from all the officers of government there, as well civil as military, and he wishes to avail himself of the first opportunity to make his grateful acknowledgments therfor.

The Paris papers we have received do not contain any intelligence worth translating, except the French Bulletin, which we shall commence the publication of to-morrow. They reach to Number 22, and the last is dated Vienna, the 24th June.

From Salvo's Travels.

I could not help inquiring after the husbands of some of the ladies at Wilna; and was answered, that they generally lived at their estates, or in other cities. It was natural to infer, that the sole object of matrimony was merely that of preserving the inheritance of the family. When once the heir is born, the husband and wife live seperate; and to render this perfectly unobjectionable, the lady is allowed the exclusive enjoyment of all her property. This convention is so strictly adhered to that, at the house of a countess, where I had frequently dined, the husband, on coming occasionally, actually paid for his board and lodging there.

OBSERVE.

The following MEDICINES are sold by ROBERT GRAY, Bookseller in King-street—and by A. HINGSTON, Fairfax-street, Alexandria.

LEE's ELIXIR!

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate, coughs, catarrhs, asthmas, sore throats and approaching consumptions. A single trial of this medicine will prove its efficacious quality in restoring a perspiration common to healthy people; it dislodges and expels the tough viscid phlegm or mucus, strengthening the weakened vessels of the lungs, thus striking at the root of the disorder, the symptoms of course are effectually and permanently conquered. The great number of cures performed in 1808 by this elegant and useful preparation, is sufficient to astonish and convince those that labor under colds, coughs, consumptions, &c. of being immediately relieved, without saying any thing of the many thousands benefitted in former years; however for the information of those persons, if any there be, that have not heard of the balsamic qualities of Lee's Elixir, we give the names of the following persons who are well known to our citizens in general as persons of known integrity and strict veracity. From the following certifieates it will plainly appear, that a three year's consumption, a common cold or cough, are all with ease removed by Lee's Elixir.

Messrs. R. Lee and Son,

The superior qualities of your medicine, called Lee's Elixir, induces me to give you this certificate for publication, to point to my suffering fellow mortals the road to health, the most valuable of all earthly possessions. For upwards of three years I have been afflicted with a severe cough. tightness of the breast, lowness of spirits, and a gradual wasting of the flesh; having tried different medicines recommended for such cases, without receiving any real benefit; fortunately one of your advertisements was given to me—I immediately applied to Mr. Vance, 178, Market street, for some of your Elixir, which has contrary to the expectations of my friends restored me to my former good state of health. Any other information will be given by me.

George Harwood,
Market street, Baltimore

Messrs R. Lee & Son,

You are at liberty to publish for the good of others, the benefit I have received from your excellent preparation called Lee's Elixir. Being afflicted with violent pains in the breast, loss of appetite, and a debility of the whole system, which rendered me unable to attend to business, being advised to try your Elixir, I procured two bottles of Messieurs Warner and Hanna, which has entirely removed the complaint, and restored me to a perfect state of health. From the good effect of your Elixir I was led to suppose your other medicines were equally efficacious, which induced me to give your Worm Lozenges to my children, and with pleasure I inform you they had the desired effect. Any other information I shall give on application to me at my house in Sly's street, Baltimore.

John Keller.

Messrs. R. Lee & Son,

In December last I was attacked with a most violent cold, a severe cough and pains in the breast, which continued to grow worse, during which time my appetite failed, and my voice altered so much, that it was with the utmost exertion I could pronounce a single sentence louder than my breath. Some of my friends having observed to me, that much good had been done by the use of Lee's Elixir, advised me to procure a bottle from Messrs. Warner and Hanna, which I accordingly did—and to those persons unacquainted with the merits of this medicine, it will appear astonishing that three doses should remove the pains in my breast, and the use of the one bottle restored me to PERFECT HEALTH.

J. A. Smith,
Market street, Fell's Point.

This medicine is superior to any ver offered to the public, being innocent and mild certain and efficacious in its operations.—Should no worms exist in the body, it will without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders.

DIRECTIONS HOW TO USE

YARWOOD'S

Patent Washing Machine.

First fill the barrel half full of your finest cloths, than fill the bottom of the Reservoir with hot suds up to the side planks, turn the Crank backwards and forwards so as to make the cloaths fall the hardest against the sides of the barrel for about twenty-five minutes, then use the same suds with a little more soap and hot water for the next finest cloaths, until the suds are unfit for use, then second your cloaths in the same way with boiling suds, after rubbing a little soap on the dirtiest parts of the cloaths; then rince them in the machine in warm or cold water.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY, from the subscriber, living in Prince-George's county, Maryland near the Woodyard, about the first of September last, a Negro Man, named GUY, about thirty years of age, about six feet high, tolerable well made, is very black, his cheek bones are tolerable high, speaks quick and pert, has no mark as I know of by which he can be more particularly described. It is needless to give a description of his cloaths as what few he took with him must be worn out. I have been informed he has frequently been seen in Alexandria in the course of last winter and spring, and passed by the name of BUTLER, as a free man It has since been reported he is dead, but I doubt it, as I cannot find from whence the report originated.—Should he not be dead, any person that will secure him in any jail so that I get him again, shall receive the above reward, and if brought home all reasonable charges.

ABAELLINO,

THE BRAVO OF VENICE.

Translated from the German, by M. G. Lewis, the well known author of the Castle Spectre, Monk, Adelgitha, &c. &c. Price handsomely bound, one dollar—the English edition sold at one dollar seventy five cents.

What black Musician conjures up this fiend?
What, do you tremble, are ye all afraid?
Alas, I blame ye not, for ye are mortal,
And mortal eyes cannot endure the devil—
Avaunt, thou dreadful Minister of Hell.

RICHARD III.

In justice to this excellent Romance, we need only remark, that the Grand Dramatic piece, which for several seasons past drew such full houses to our theatre, is founded on the same subject, as translated by Dunlap; but the acknowledged superiority of Lewis's writings or translations in the Romance style, being so far superior to any other of our modern authors, leaves encomium unnecessary with the publishers.

NOTE. Five editions of this Romance were sold in a very short time, after publication in London—it is dedicated to the Earl of Moira by Lewis.
